Further Details for Parents & Campers

A letter or email will be sent to each camper nearer the time of camp giving advice about clothes and equipment. CCiW will not be responsible for loss of personal property of campers.

Transport

Transport will be available from the stations / bus stops in Tywyn / Barmouth to the respective camp sites if you let us know when you require it.

Insurance

Insurance: CCiW is insured for public liability. Public liability is a cover which provides protection for campers should they have an accident which was due to the negligence of the leaders or organisers of Christian Camps In Wales.

The camp fee does not include personal accident cover for campers, i.e. if a camper receives an injury on camp for which CCiW is not liable, there will be no entitlement to any payment from CCiW's insurers. Adventure activities are provided by Licensed Activity Providers who have their own public liability insurance cover.

Code of Conduct

We want everyone to enjoy camp as much as possible and in every way. These few rules will help to ensure this, provided they are followed.

Remember that the rules are for your safety and enjoyment. If you book to come on camp you agree to abide by this code of conduct.

1. It is expected that everyone will try to join in everything, and maintain acceptable standards of behaviour.
2. You will be expected to follow the instructions of the leaders and officers at all times, especially during adventure activities. Failure to follow instructions promptly could be dangerous to you and to others.
3. Under no circumstances are you to go into the tents of the opposite sex.
4. Damage or theft of CCiW or other camper's property will not be tolerated.
5. No alcohol, smoking, drugs etc.
6. No knives other than those used for eating are permitted on camp.
7. Phones and other electronic equipment are not necessary. They must be switched off during meal times and meetings and any other time instructed by the leaders.

Violations of the rules may result in campers being sent home.
Campers sent home for bad behaviour will not be entitled to a refund.

Camp is really great fun, but so much more.
What is camp really about?
 Well, there are lots of different answers ...

Some will say friendship: we certainly know of some wonderful friendships formed on camps which have lasted and blossomed over years, benefiting not only the campers but also the churches to which they belong.

Some will say fun: we certainly do have fun, with something to suit all who have a sense of adventure. Whether it is canoeing, gorge walking, raft building, wide games, bivouacking, table tennis, football, volley ball, camp concerts, tent life, tent inspection, washing up, trips to the coast or even shopping, there is something for everyone. There are optional extras including rock climbing, pony trekking etc. Please bring extra pocket money for these.

Whilst friendship and fun are really important, at the heart of camp is a person, Jesus Christ. He makes camp special in so many ways but especially as His gospel is taught and explained in the daily services and tent bible studies.

If you want more details or would like to see photos of the camp sites please visit our web site: www.cciw.co.uk

The Aim

The aim of the camps is the presentation of the Christian faith to young people in the context of a safe and healthy outdoor camp environment.

Safety and a wholesome environment for campers is paramount. For this reason the teams will be led by experienced leaders and where possible a husband and wife team. Quite often this means that camp life will be enhanced by the presence of young children on site.

The programme will include a service and a tent Bible study every day except Sunday, which is kept special with 2 services and a quiet programme in between.
